

GÖDÖLLŐ HILLS AND THE MOUNTAINS OF GERCSE

Hunting Areas

1. Gödöllő Hills

The Gödöllő Hills hunting area spans 14,000 hectares, with 72% forest coverage. Dominant tree species include Turkey oak, hornbeam, oak, false acacia, and maple. The terrain's average elevation is 260–300 meters above sea level.

A 400-hectare game park within this territory offers exceptional wild boar hunting opportunities, boasting abundant game. The broader hunting area is home to red deer, fallow deer, roe deer, mouflon, and wild boar.

Distance from Budapest Airport: Approximately 40 minutes.

Accommodation:

A first-class hunters' lodge, located within the hunting area, offers a serene and peaceful retreat. The lodge features a dining room and 10 double rooms, providing a comfortable stay for guests in a picturesque setting.

2. Gyarmatpuszta Forestry Unit

Situated between Tarján and Gyermely villages in the Gerecse Mountains, this hunting area lies on the historic estates of the Sándor and Metternich families. Located 45 km from Budapest, the area covers 7,700 hectares with 63% forest coverage. The main tree species are oak, hornbeam, Turkey oak, and false acacia.

The territory includes a 690-hectare mixed game park, a 330-hectare wild boar park, and a historic 300-hectare game park established in 1830, renowned for its exceptional game stock. The mouflon and fallow deer populations are of outstanding quality, with red deer and wild boar also present. In 2004, the Hungarian record mouflon ram was taken here.

Accommodation:

The forestry unit's first-class hunters' lodge is located within a closed game park. It accommodates up to 40 guests and features a dining room. A fishing lake is also available for recreational activities.
